

As I John Brown said in the year 1859
The sword is marching on the ground
and the sword is marching on the ground
The sword is marching on the ground
The sword is marching on the ground

He has now to be a soldier in the army, the Lord
He shall stand at the head of the army
The sword is marching on the ground
The sword is marching on the ground
The sword is marching on the ground

He shall stand in front where the lines of battle form
He shall face to front where the squares of battle form
Come with the column, & charge in the storm
The sword is marching on the ground
The sword is marching on the ground

The great tyrants! do ye hear him - where he comes?
The black traitors! do ye hear him - where he comes?
In the name of the Lord and all of the saints

We go marching on - Day by
We all see marching on

We may die & moulder in the dust -
Then moulder & arise again for dust.
Boulder - Boulder in the ranks of the past.
When I am marching in the past
The land is marching on,
